City of Banyule Walk to School Promotion

Once again we were asked to be a part of the Walk to School 2018-Promotional Video and a number of our students worked with Ms Long, a Safe & Sustainable Transport Officer and a film crew to produce an excellent video encouraging kids to walk, ride or scoot to and from school.

The Treehouse

Two of our Foundation Classes have moved in to the new building. This year's Foundation students have given it a thumbs up. Furniture has been ordered, however this will take up to seven weeks to arrive so they are using their current tables and chairs. Students are expected to assemble in the morning where they usually line up and the teachers will take them from there. The Minister for Education James Merlino is hoping to find a date in the very near future to officially open the building.

The result of the move enables the now empty classroom to resume its role as a collaboration space, as we begin planning for Innovation Week in November.

Foundation explorations

Working Bee wrap up

Thank you to those parents and students who came to last Sunday's working bee: Susanto, Lowe, Iturbe, Laven, Grover, Kerner and Azadi Goodfellow families. This small band achieved a great deal. Clearing the grounds of weeds and tending the garden was a priority, as was cleaning the sinks and drinking troughs. Recycled tyres were cut up and used as plant retainers and playground safety barriers. Drains were cleared on tanbark which often contributes to our flooding issues. Thank you to school councillor Glenn Anderson for coordinating the event.

The next Working Bee is on Sunday the 25th of November and all are welcome.

Want to help your child? Ask questions.

By asking questions you can support your child to:

- Share their enjoyment of reading and writing.
- Develop a better understanding about the characters or topics.
- Develop a sense of empathy for others.
- Develop their values, attitudes and beliefs about the world.
- Broaden their experience and knowledge of the world.
- Foster their imagination.
- Consider the important points in what they are reading.

Here are the types of questions your child might be asked at school.

As a parent you can include some of these questions when you talk about reading at home too.

The following questions require your child to get clues from the text to answer:

- How do you think the character was feeling?
- How would you change the ending?
- How would you describe the changes in the character/setting?

These questions require your child to refer back to the text:

- What were the characters' names?
- What was the setting?
- What did each character do?
- What happened at the beginning, middle and end of the text?

The following questions require your child to think about the main messages:

- What do you think is the main message in the story or text?
- Can you relate it to another event or issue?
- Do you agree with the views of the author?
- What is your opinion about the message in the story?
- How could other people see it differently?

Hall work

Last week a panel fell off one of the internal hall walls prompting the closure of the facility for several days. We have since had the Department of Education and Training contractors inspect all panels and make them safe. They have indicated that some cosmetic work is yet to be completed but the hall is safe to use.

Mini-Market is time is coming....

Thank you to those who have returned their volunteer forms.

If you are available to help out on Nov 24th, we would LOVE to have you! Please return your form to the office ASAP so we can start on our rosters.

We are seeking donations of unwanted flat sheets! (to make awesome signs and tablecloths - and who uses all their flat sheets anyway! ha) Also, if you have partial tins of paint you don't need, we'd love them too! Please drop at the office as soon as possible.

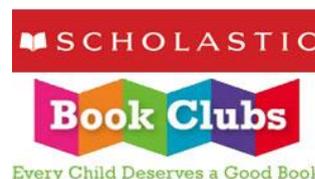

Keep your eyes out for more information - and we look forward to seeing you at the market!!

Scholastic Book Club order due Wednesday the 24th of October

Scholastic book club orders need to be back by Wednesday the 24th October. This will be the last one for this year.
